Vocabulary Constabulary

Are you a good detective? The Vocabulary Constabulary needs your help.

You can often detect the meaning of a word or phrase by reading it in context, that is, by reading the other words around it in a piece of text. Find the page, article or paragraph in TPP and then detect the word or phrase that solves the clue to its meaning. The number of letters and the starting letter of the solution are in brackets after each clue.

18-year-old Kildare woman Alice Kelly had a bright idea and turned it into a reality. Well, two bright ideas. One, to turn a decrepit horsebox into a mobile pop-up bakery. Two, to record it all on TikTok!

First, she found an old horsebox online, and bought it for €590 with her 18th birthday money and some help! Then she got to work.

She had to rip up and replace rotten floorboards, wire electrics, waterproof the hole thing – and so on! 'The first time I used a power tool was a month before I started,' she says. 'I barely new how to use a hammer!' It was terribly hard work, all day every day. What kept her going was the fact she quickly had almost a million followers watching her every move!

Finally, she painted it – pink and cream to resemble a cupcake! And let's not forget she's also a genius baker! What did she call her new business? From Scratch!

Attenborough in Killarney (Page 5)

The magnificent scenery and beauty of Killarney National Park is to feature in Sir David Attenborough's latest wildlife documentary series, Wild Isles, on the BBC.

We've seen him range the lands and oceans of the world, confronting many rare, bazarre and sometimes dangerous creatures on this planet. However, in this series he is back on home ground and focusses on the British Isles and Ireland, including the West coast of Ireland and Killarney National Park.

The episode featuring Killarney will show its rich biodiversity, including the native red deer which have been there since Neolithic times. All the other red deer in Ireland are decended from deer that have been reintroduced.

Speaking of Killarney, David Attenborough said: 'With its astonishing scenery, there are extrordinary animal dramas and wildlife spectackles to match anything I have seen on my globel travels.'

The documentary will no dout bring a huge boost in tourists to Killarney and Kerry as it will be watched by millions across the world. Thank you, Sir David!

Alexander Campbell from Sydney, Austrailia, has started a four-year hike around the world. Why is he doing this, you might ask. The 27-year-old, also known as Zan, really likes walking. And this trek across 30 countries in four continents will help to earn donashions for the Fred Hollows Foundation. That organization helps to prevent vision problems, including blindness, around the world. Asia is one of the continents Campbell will cross while walking. That continent has the most blind people in the world and definitely appreciates the help of a group like the Fred Hollows Foundation.

Campbell started his 40,000 km walk in Febuary. As an experiensed hiker, he is unlikely to get sore legs or many blisters on his feet. In the past, he walked the primitive and challenging Great Himalaya Trail in Nepal and the strenuous Colorado Trail in the US.

On his currant walk around the world, Campbell walks about 40-50 km per day. He then sets up camp for the night. The idea is to complete his trek within four years. That could change if weather conditions interfear or if he gets hurt or too tired. The plan for getting from one continent to the next is still somewhat uncertain. Campbell says he would rather take boats than airoplanes.

The star-nosed mole can be found in Canada and the US. Looking like a cross between a rat and an _____ (1), and only 20cm long, it is definitely a _____ (2) for the title of the World's Weirdest-looking Creature. Is it _____ (3) or is it horrible? The _____ (4) may be out on that, but one thing's for sure: that nose makes it a _____ (5) hunter. Its nose has 22 'fingers (called 'rays'), which have super senses. It is studded with _____ (6) of microscopic sensory receptors. The mole needs that nose as it is practically _____ (7) and lives in darkness underground.

This amazing nose lets the mole sense everything around it in super-detail and hunt for its _____ (8), even underground, with terrifying skill. It eats small _____ (9) (animals without a bony skeleton) like insects and worms. It can find, catch, and eat its prey in less than a quarter of a second! This already puts it in line for the _____ (10): the World's Fastest-eating Mammal!

While videos about many topics show up on the social media site, Tik Tok, something rather _____ (1) and new appeared in 2022 – from space! Italian _____ (2), Samantha Cristoforetti, began _____ (3) videos made on the International Space Station (ISS) when she arrived in April. She is the first to do that and a pioneer in many ways!

This is Cristoforetti's second _____ (4) to space. In 2014, her 199-day mission was the longest _____ (5) by a woman at that time. What kinds of activities was she recording and _____ (6) on Tik Tok in 2022? Viewers could see things like the launch of her SpaceX _____ (7) and the process of settling in at the Space Station. She also showed her daily exercise time and how a wet towel acts in weightlessness.

The videos were fun and educational. But this astronaut was doing many other things in space that her viewers didn't see. She worked for 12 hours a day _____ (8) the Space Station and doing various types of _____ (9) research. Cristoforetti urged other young women to pursue STEM subjects in school (science, technology, engineering and maths) and then possibly turn that knowledge into _____ (10) as astronauts!

Looking up at the sky, many unknown things can be seen _____ (1) about here and there. Some people working as volunteers around the world pay close _____ (2) to these items. One example is a specific rocket part that was first _____ (3) moving through space in 2015. This kind of 'space junk' is common and comes from various space missions.

This particular rocket part seemed to _____ (4) after first being spotted, but then showed up again in 2022. Its location, along with pictures, was reported to data scientist and _____ (5) Bill Gray. Based on launch dates, he thinks it's from a Chinese lunar mission. Others _____ (6) it's from one of billionaire Elon Musk's SpaceX missions.

Either way, the rocket part is heading towards the Moon – or it may have already _____ (7) it. The good news? This shouldn't hurt anything and would probably just make a small _____ (8).

The real story may never be known. Satellites that _____ (9) the moon should eventually be able to take pictures of any new craters, but the mystery of where this particular piece of space junk _____ (10) may never be solved.

Drama Time

Each month, we invite you and your class to base your drama lesson on a theme from The Primary Planet.

This month, we are turning our attention to the news section, both national and world news, as a starting point. We challenge you to create a short piece of drama, involving an array of characters, to demonstrate one of the news stories covered. To help you, should you need it, we have provided some ideas below.

Idea 1: John Hume and David Trimble deserved the Nobel Peace Prize. Agree or disagree?

Idea 2: Where else in Ireland could David Attenborough go to see rich biodiversity and feature a species of Irish wildlife? Do your own 'Attenborough style' feature on an Irish animal. Don't forget to explain the reasons for your choice.

Idea 3: What contribution could your school or class make to the citizen scientist call-out? Put together a proposal for your class to join in the citizen scientist movement.

Idea 4: Create a piece of drama inspired by the style of Carl Spitzweg – an artist who liked to make light fun of common habits or practices in modern-day society. Remember to consider how people of the future might view the habit, and to only 'gently mock'. Present your drama to your class.

Idea 5: Jenny the donkey has made quite the impression from The Banshees of Inisherin. Can you think of any other films where there may have been an (intentional or unintentional) big animal star? Should we have a Best Animal Actor Oscar Award? Present your nominees, with reasons for their inclusion to your class – and perhaps cast votes to determine the winner!

Have Your Say

Based on articles from this month's mag, we want you to think about some of the issues that arise. Remember, when you are trying to put forward an opinion, or an argument, make sure you know your facts and figures and be clear in how you feel about a certain topic and why. Here are some questions and statements you and your class might like to consider thinking about and discussing. Some you will agree with, some you clearly won't!

The current Irish rugby team is the greatest of all time.

Boxers are tougher than wrestlers.

Children should be paid to go to school.

Pets should be compulsory for children over 10.

School should start and finish later.

Space exploration is a waste of time and taxpayers money.

Fizzy drinks should have an age restriction.

Screen time should be banned at meal times.

Clowns are scarier than vampires.

It is OK to litter when you really have to.

Captain America would beat Black Panther, without a doubt.

Sisters are better than brothers.

Did You Know?

Every issue of your Primary Planet is packed full of facts and figures. Why not record the top 4 things that you learned from this issue. When you do, make sure to create an illustration to go with each one. When you are finished, share and discuss your choices with your classmates. We have added our favourite one below. You'll see I didn't just copy it from TPP, I wrote it out in my own words. Always a great idea when doing a project.

Did You Know?

The Good Friday Agreement (also known as the Belfast Agreement) was signed on April 10, 1998. It brought an end to almost thirty years of violence between Republicans and Loyalists in Northern Ireland. Nationalist leader John Hume and Unionist leader David Trimble were jointly awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for 1998 for the work they did to get the agreement across the line.

How well have you read The Primary Planet this month? Here, in 'What's in the News', as well as testing your memory and retention skills, we also test your imagination and creative skills. This activity is based on our National and International news sections. Read the articles and answer the following questions.

1. Read the article 'Leo and Joe Sport Shamrock'. The Taoiseach and government ministers visit foreign countries and meet other leaders around St Patrick's Day each year. Do you think it's a good idea? Why do you think so?
2. Read the article 'Champion Dancer'. What would you like to be famous for? Give reasons for your answer.
3. Read the article 'Attenborough in Killarney'. Write some advantages and some disadvantages (in your opinion) of working as a Nature Documentary maker.
4. Read the article 'First Chinese Pangolin Born in Europe'. Use your research skills to find and record (in your own words) ten facts you learned from this article.
5. Read the article 'Before and After'. Design a poster to advertise Alice Kelly's Bakery.
6. Read the article 'Welcome Jambi!'. Do you think zoos and wildlife parks are a good idea? Why do you think so?
7. Read the article 'Mighty Day for Waterford'. Make a list of ten questions you would like to ask any of the people (or horses) named in the article.
8. Read the article 'Space Station's New Crew'. If you had to spend six months on the International Space Station list ten things you would bring with you.
9. Read the article 'A Worldly Walkabout'. Rewrite the article in your own words using around fifty words.
10. What was your favourite news story in this month's TPP? Why?
