Vocabulary Constabulary (1)

Are you a good detective? The Vocabulary Constabulary needs your help.

You can often detect the meaning of a word or phrase by reading it in context, that is, by reading the other words around it in a piece of text. Find the page, article or paragraph in TPP and then detect the word or phrase that solves the clue to its meaning. The number of letters and the starting letter of the solution are in brackets after each clue.

If your driving around the Ring of Kerry, see if you can spot engraved and painted stones by the roadside. Project 'Forever Set in Stone' is the 'brain-child' of Tina Walker. Years ago, she found a specail stone, brought it home, engraved and painted it and set it up where people could injoy it. From then on, she has never stopt doing this – with the help of her son Liam (12). Dolphins, pengwins, turtles, butterflys, cartoon eyes – they never run out of ideas!

'The idea is to put a smile on people's faces and create happy memorys,' says Tina. 'I had a tuff few years with my mental healt and that is where the idea came from. I realised I could put a smile on someone's face by doing something so little.'

One stone at Coomachiste was created when a woman asked for one to be set up in memory of a man who sold honey there for years and has now passed away. The engraving is a be, of course!

The Courtmacsherry RNLI all-weather lifeboat has done it again, with another dramattick rescue to add to its long list. It was called out on September 3 by the Coastguard Marine Rescue, to go to the aid of a 20ft pleazure boat with a fire on board. The boat was about a kilometer offshore in Clonakilty Bay.

Within 10 minutes of geting the call, the six-person RNLI crew, led by coxswain Seán O'Farrell, were speedin towards the stricken boat. The Inshore Community Lifeboat at Inchydoney, with two crew memburs on board, also rushed to the rescue.

The electrical fire was quickly exthinguished, but the boat's engene was damaged. The 'Courtmac' crew then toed the boat ashore, while the Inshore lifeboat took the casualty boat's two crew members to safety.

Courtmacsherry Lifeboat operations manager Brian O'Dwyer said: 'It was great to see the cooperation of all the rescue agencies in today's important callout as minutes matters when a fire occurs on board any vessel.'

Have Your Say (Pages 4 and 5)

There's a chance Irish towns could be darker and gloomier this Christmas as businesses struggle to pay their electricity bills. Shop owners say energy bills have doubled or even trebled and they will struggle to put up the usual lavish Christmas decorations.

In fact, leaving the lights off in shop windows after closing time is one of the things shops may have to do, according to Retail Excellence Ireland managing director Duncan Graham. 'The cost of electricity could result in some closures of stores that were teetering on the brink during Covid,' he says. 'Especially now that customers will have less money to spend.'

Companies also fear possible winter electricity blackouts, which would interfere with production. Some companies will be producing as much as possible now in September fearing rising costs and outages. Others are buying diesel generators – each costing as much as €100,000 – because of possible outages.

Let's just hope that all this is alarmist or just a worst-case scenario. No-one wants a less than bright Christmas.

The Rosetta orbiter, a large _____ (1) box with dimensions 2.8 x 2.1 x 2.0 metres, with scientific instruments mounted on top and a lander attached to the side, lifted off from Kourou in French Guiana in March 2004. Two enormous solar panel 'wings' extend from the other sides. These wings, each 32 square metres in area, have a total span of about 32 metres tip to tip and provided the _____ (2) supply for the craft.

During its ten-year _____ (3) across the Solar System, Rosetta crossed the asteroid belt and travelled into deep space, more than five times Earth's distance from the Sun. It made six orbits around the Sun and travelled nearly 8 billion kilometres. It reached its _____ (4), Comet 67P/Churyumov-Gerasimenko on August 6, 2014.

Rosetta became the first spacecraft to orbit a comet, and the first to deploy a lander, Philae, in November 2014. Philae took _____ (5) from the comet's surface which were analysed in the laboratory on board Rosetta. The information and close-up _____ (6) of the comet were relayed back to Earth. For the next two years Rosetta tracked and continued to monitor the comet during their closest approach to the Sun and beyond.

By studying the gas, dust and structure of the comet, the Rosetta mission was a _____ (7) to unlocking the history and evolution of our Solar System. Comets were born in the outer reaches of the Solar System, 4600 million years ago, when the planets were forming. The information gathered by Rosetta has given us the greatest ever insight into what the building _____ (8) of the planets may have looked like 4.6 billion years ago.

On September 30, 2016, the ESA pulled the _____ (9) on the Rosetta mission. The orbiter landed on the _____ (10) and communication ceased. The decision to end the mission was a result of Rosetta and the comet heading out beyond the orbit of Jupiter again. Further from the Sun than Rosetta had ever journeyed before, there would be little power to operate the craft.

Let's Talk

It's good to talk ... especially if the teacher invites you to. Here are some suggestions and topics that you could talk about for the next 10 or 15 minutes. Remember to give your partner or people in the group time to talk and try not to think about what you want to say when the other person is talking. Instead, really listen to what they are saying.

Somewhere I went to over the summer.
Something I read over the summer.
The best news I heard in a long time.

Drama Time

Each month, we invite you and your class to base your drama lesson on a theme from The Primary Planet. We challenge you to create a short piece of drama, involving an array of characters, to demonstrate one of the news stories or features covered. To help you, should you need it, we have provided some ideas below.

Idea 1: You are on a mission to save the pangolin. But no one is listening!

Idea 2: You are two weeks into First Year and you are beginning to realise you now are the small fish in the big pond.

Idea 3: Trouble arises when you neglect, time and time again, to use caution when online. Private over Public? You couldn't agree more now that this has happened.

Idea 4: Jimmy Galton has returned home and rumour has it he's about to renovate and restore the hall. You want to help but promises were made.

Idea 5: Buzz Aldrin said he was walking out first. But I had other ideas.

Have Your Say

Based on articles from this month's mag, we want you to think about some of the issues that arise. Remember, when you are trying to put forward an opinion, or an argument, make sure you know your facts and figures and be clear in how you feel about a certain topic and why. Here are some questions and statements you and your class might like to consider thinking about and discussing. Some you will agree with, some you clearly won't!

1. Michael Collins is a true Irish hero.

2. It is up to us to find ways of surviving this energy crisis.

3. Science is amazing – leg braces for giraffes!! What next?

4. Octopus could be the new lobster, as there are so many. Yummy!

5. Jimmy Galton got what he deserved.

6. I'd gladly volunteer to have a tiny robot put inside my body.

7. It is important to learn more than one language.

8. Schools should show the World Cup matches.
